INTRODUCTION TO THE UNIVERSITY

Established in 1884, Bangor University has a long tradition of excellence and exceeds expectations, both for academic standards and student experience. Bangor University today is a thriving, forward-looking institution offering excellent postgraduate opportunities in both taught courses and research degrees.

We enjoy an excellent track record for research and teaching quality. The most recent Research Excellence Framework (REF 2014) recognised that more than three-quarters of Bangor's research is either world-leading or internationally excellent.

Based on the University submission of 14 Units of Assessment, 77% of the research was rated in the top two tiers of research quality, ahead of the average for all UK universities.

Our reputation as a world-leading research university is underlined by the fact that the REF results ranked Bangor University amongst the top 40 universities in the UK. The research carried out in over half of our academic schools was ranked in the Top 20 in the UK.

Coupled with the high calibre of research activity, students on taught postgraduate courses can enjoy teaching of a high standard delivered by true experts in their field.

Bangor has a strong research base across a spectrum of academic disciplines engaging in research at national and international levels. Research is carried out either directly in the Schools or in Research Centres and Institutes associated with one or more School.

Bangor University is recognised regionally, nationally and internationally as a centre of excellence for a varied portfolio of academic programmes and for the high quality of the experience it provides for its students and staff. We have a range of national and international partnerships with a number of other universities which provide an opportunity to work collaboratively, as well as for joint working, research and study.

The University has a clear commitment to provide a quality student experience through teaching, learning and student support. Our ratio of teaching staff to students enables us to focus on each student's individual needs and we are committed to encouraging each and every individual student to reach their full potential.

"Bangor is a genuinely caring and supportive university community, and we take great pride in the first class services we offer our students. These include academic, financial, career and personal advice support.

The quality of our teaching and research is world-class, attracting students and staff from around the globe. In addition, there are numerous opportunities for students to get involved in a wide variety of activities. The stunning mountains of Snowdonia and miles of coastline provide the backdrop to a university experience which cannot be matched."

Prof JOHN G. HUGHES
Vice-Chancellor, Bangor University

BANGOR AT A GLANCE

IN THE UK'S TOP
50 UNIVERSITIES

(Sunday Times University Guide 2015)

- Founded in 1884, Bangor University has a long tradition of academic excellence, which continues to this day. This is supported by recent major endorsements of both the quality of teaching and the research carried out here.
- Bangor University has a varied portfolio of postgraduate programmes and we have a range of national and international partnerships with a number of other universities which provide an opportunity to work collaboratively, as well as for joint working, research and study.
- Bangor prides itself on the student experience offered and is placed within the top 15 universities in the UK for student experience (Times Higher Education Student Experience Survey). The low cost of living, the student support and stunning location all contribute to this.
- The 2015 National Student Survey (NSS) results placed Bangor University top in Wales and in the top 10 in the UK for student satisfaction*. The NSS also placed Bangor 6th in the UK for Assessment and Feedback, 6th for Academic Support, and 8th for Teaching.
- Bangor offers a vibrant student community and is ranked in the top 100 universities in the World for its international outlook (Times Higher Education, 2015).
- An on-going investment in facilities and support services is further enhancing the Bangor student experience. An exciting new Arts & Innovation Centre, new halls of residence, and improved sports facilities are amongst recent developments.

* joint 8th in the UK when excluding specialist institutions / joint top in Wales

A WORLD-LEADING RESEARCH UNIVERSITY

- Research is central to Bangor University; it is an integral part of our teaching and a passion of our academic staff.
- Almost all research academics teach, ensuring that our students benefit from the knowledge created by our research.
- The 2014 Research Excellence Framework (REF) recognised that more than three-quarters of Bangor's research is either "world-leading" or "internationally excellent". The results of the REF ranked Bangor in the top 40 UK universities for research.
- Research in the Schools of Sports Science; Modern Languages; Welsh; Education; Linguistics; Social Sciences; Ocean Sciences; Biological Sciences; Environment, Natural Resources and Geography; Psychology; Healthcare Sciences and Medical Sciences have all been ranked in the top 20 in the UK.
- Our research transforms the lives of millions of people around the world and in many different ways. This impact ranges from the food we eat and the environment we live in, through health and well-being to improving of the economy and the law of the land.
- The University provides strong support for research activities including encouraging links with commercial and industrial bodies in the UK and overseas.

"The world leading research carried out at Bangor University, together with our high student satisfaction and the new major building projects that we have underway makes this university a unique and very attractive place to study and work."

Prof JOHN G. HUGHES
Vice-Chancellor, Bangor University

'Rollercoaster' flight hits the headlines

CASE STUDY

Scientists from Bangor University made international headlines after discovering the secrets of high-altitude bird flight. The research – led by Bangor University's School of Biological Sciences – made the cover of top academic journal Science and was then picked up by science reporters, news agencies and websites all over the world.

The tracking study into the secrets of the world's highest bird migration – the Himalayan flight of the bar-headed goose, led by Bangor University researcher Dr Charles Bishop, show how the birds hug the mountainous terrain, and that this saves energy during their long migratory flight.

Using custom-designed GPS data loggers, the team recorded one bird flying at 24,000ft. Data from the devices enabled the scientists to work out the birds' energy use, as well as tracking what they called their 'rollercoaster' flight pattern. While rising and falling may seem wasteful – losing hard-earned altitude, just to climb again later – the unique trackers revealed the reasons behind it.

BANGOR: THERE'S NOWHERE LIKE IT

There are lots of reasons to fall in love with Bangor, besides the excellent teaching and world-class research. Relax on beautiful beaches, explore stunning mountain trails, or enjoy taking part in some of the student activities on offer. It all makes for a university experience that can't be matched...

THE UNIVERSITY

- Rated in the top 15 in the UK for student experience (Times Higher Education Student Experience Survey).
- Student support is a high priority at Bangor, with a range of services and programmes in place to help you make the most of your time at university. We can also prepare you for your future through our employability and enterprise services.
- Recognised in several student surveys as one of the best places in the UK to be a student.
- Bangor is the best University in the UK for Clubs & Societies (WhatUni Awards 2015) and membership of around 150 Students' Union clubs and societies is free.
- The University's Pontio centre will offer an exciting arts and entertainment programme. In addition to providing a new base for the Students' Union, the exciting new centre will house a theatre, studio theatre, cinema, lecture theatres, restaurant, bar and cafe.
- Academi, the official student nightclub, provides a focus for the night-time entertainment and general socialising. Bar Uno, situated at the Ffriddoedd student village also offers events such as sports nights, club and society socials and entertainment.

BANGOR AND THE AREA

- A scenic and sporty location, close to the mountains and the sea.
- Bangor is a small, student-centred city. That means it's easy to get to know people, and our students settle in quickly.
- A high proportion of our students are attracted here by the small and friendly nature of the University and the town.
- Nearby are the historical towns of Beaumaris, Conwy and Caernarfon (all with their own castles) and scenic villages like Llanberis, Beddgelert and Betws y Coed. The beaches on the island of Anglesey are also popular spots for sunbathing and swimming.
- It's easier to get here than you might think – there are excellent road links along the north Wales coast from the motorway network, and direct trains from many major rail stations.

CASE STUDY

Patrick Burn was supported by the KESS project while completing his Masters by Research in Electronic Engineering at Bangor University. The collaborative project saw Patrick working with Creo Medical on a project titled 'Medical Microwave Therapeutic Application Design'. Since completing his Masters by Research, Patrick has been employed by the company and continues to work on Research and Development projects. He said:

"KESS is a great opportunity to gain valuable work experience, while completing a focused and applied project. The scholarship allows you to fully focus on the degree with less financial restrictions and concerns. The scheme is well organized and has a large support network to help all students complete their postgraduate degree. KESS is an opportunity that should not be missed. The skills developed and work experience gained will help you access the career you want."

"Together with my Master's degree, completing the BEA Master presents me as an individual who is both academically capable and employable. It supports my CV, demonstrating that I have well-developed skills, desirable and essential to future employment. It is a relaxed programme, enabling you to complete it as and when you are free to do so."

FINANCING YOUR STUDIES

FEES AND FUNDING

- Tuition fees are determined by the students' country of origin and vary depending on the type of subject being studied. Full details are on our website (see below).
- There are various sources of funding available to postgraduate students. It is essential that you start thinking about how to fund your postgraduate studies as early as possible as there are often deadlines set for applying for funding.
- It is sometimes possible to obtain third party financial support for your study. This may be from a charity, foundation or trust whose aims and interests correspond with your own proposed area of study, or your employer is willing to sponsor you.
- You may decide to self-fund your study, whether this is achieved by using existing savings, working part-time to support your living costs or using a Career Development Loan from a High Street bank.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND BURSARIES

- For Masters' courses, Bursaries and Scholarships generally range from around £500 to £5,000 per year, depending on the subject area, and are usually allocated on a competitive basis.
- For research degrees such as a PhD, the University advertises a significant number of fully-funded research studentships each year and opportunities can arise throughout the year. This funding is allocated variously from central scholarship funds, academic Schools, UK Research Councils and charitable institutions.
- The Santander Group awards Scholarships to our taught postgraduate students ranging from £4,162-£5,000. The scholarship fund aims to reward the most academically gifted students from countries that are supported by the Santander Universidades scheme.
- The Santander Mobility Scholarship Scheme offers Bangor University research students the opportunity to study or research overseas at institutions within the Grupo Santander Network during the academic year.
- International Scholarships of £5,000 are awarded to every candidate showing a performance equivalent to a 1st class honours, and £2,500 is awarded for performance equivalent to 2(i) or 2(ii). Scholarships up to the full tuition fee waiver are also available for students with excellent academic performance.

ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

The qualifications, skills and qualities needed for postgraduate study at Bangor vary from course to course and academic School to School. Full details can be found on the website, see below.

Academic

A Bachelor degree from an approved University or Higher Education Institution is required. Normally for admission to Masters' courses the minimum degree classification accepted is a lower second class honours (2.ii) or equivalent and for research degrees an upper second class honours (2.i) or equivalent. Some programmes may require a higher degree classification or a higher degree award. Bachelor degrees gained in the UK are normally accepted. If you have a degree from another country, see our website, below.

Mature students who do not have the above academic qualifications will also be considered for postgraduate degree programmes. A minimum of two years relevant professional work experience may be accepted in-lieu of formal academic qualifications.

English Language

Students for whom English is not a first language will be required to provide evidence of English Language proficiency. See page 11 for details.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

The University makes all reasonable efforts to ensure that the information in this brochure is correct at the time of printing (September 2015).

The University makes all reasonable efforts to provide the courses, tuition and learning support, research opportunities and other services and facilities with reasonable care and skill and in the way described in this prospectus.

However, the University shall be entitled if it reasonably considers it to be necessary (including in order to manage its resources and to improve the quality of its provision) to make reasonable changes to this provision including:

- to make change to (for example) the content and syllabus of courses and methods of teaching and assessment (including in relation to placements);
- to suspend or discontinue courses (for example, because a key member of staff is unwell or leaves the University and cannot reasonably be replaced).

In the unlikely event that the University discontinues or does not provide a course or changes it significantly before it begins, the University will tell the relevant individuals at the earliest possible opportunity. An individual will be entitled to withdraw from the course by telling the University in writing within a reasonable time of being informed of the change.

The University will make available to students such learning support and other services and facilities as it considers appropriate but may vary what it provides and how it provides it (for example, the University may consider it desirable to change the way it provides library or IT support).

The willingness of the University to consider an application is no guarantee of acceptance. Students are admitted to the University on the basis that the information they provide in their application form is complete and correct.
